Raymond remained inexpressive. "Your brother is an enthusiast. I believe you said. He'll be more charitable than—than you, for instance."

Ann didn't like his emphasis. "I don't wonder at your resentment. Our coming is an imposition, but if I had known—please be kind enough to admit that I didn't know how you were situated."

Raymond resumed his cowboy manner. "Now, lady, you let that go. I don't blame you a hair. You're here, and I'll see—I mean, the boss will see—we'll all see—that the boy is treated right, and I'll guarantee that he gets a fair share of what's going. I'm not apologizing, but I hope you won't take us on the wrong slant. I hope you'll come often. You brighten up the place wonderfully."

Ann drew herself up. "I don't understand you, Mr.—"

"Call me Cook—Mr. Cook. Anything goes out here."

They were now squared before each other, he with a malicious smile lurking at the corner of his mouth, she with dark and puzzled brow.

"Of course, you cowboys are all strange to me—I mean your manners and customs—but my roommate at college told me a good deal about this life. She was from Colorado."

He betrayed new interest. "What was your college? Smith?"

Ann lifted her eyebrows in surprise. "No. What made you think it was?"

Raymond began to retreat. "Oh, I don't know. You seemed about that style. I mean to say, you carry yourself like a Smith college girl that came down here once with Mrs. Barnett."

He caught up the water bucket. "Excuse me a minute. I'll run down to the spring and get some water." His going was equivalent to flight.

Ann smiled composedly as she sipped her coffee, which was very good indeed.

Louis burst in at the door. "Sis, you ought to see the corral out here. They have ninety head of horses! Think of that! And I'm to ride all I want to."

Baker, who appeared just behind him, put in a drawing word: "Pecored like he wanted to ride four to one, like a circus man. Are you gettin' something to eat, miss?"

"Oh, yes, indeed."

Louis, throwing down his cap in imitation of Raymond, cried out, "I'm hungry!"

Ann turned to Baker. "Mr. Foreman, isn't there something mysterious about your cook? Part of the time he speaks like a man of the world and part of the time like a rancher. I think he's playing a part, and playing it badly."

"What makes you think so?" asked Louis. "They say he's a bully rider."

"They ain't none better, miss," replied Baker, who began to look a little uneasy.

Ann pursued her point. "I think he's one of those romantic cowboys who have seen better days—perhaps an English nobleman in disguise."

Baker was always ready when a chance to get even with Raymond offered itself. He puckered his plump face into a frown of deep concern. "I guess you're some right, miss, but he ain't no English lord, I don't think. We never inquire very close into a man's pedigree out here if he can ride a cayuse and flip a gun. But he's American, all right, and a good cook."

"Is that his real name?"

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painfulness, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the backache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over lower abdominal region, dries up the pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs distinctly feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the makers of which are not afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking the patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only put-up medicine for women, sold through druggists, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, so hazardous to the long run, especially to delicate women. It has more genuine cures to its credit than all other medicines for women combined, having saved thousands of sufferers from the operating table and the surgeon's knife. It has restored delicate, weak women to strong and vigorous health and virility, making motherhood possible, where there was barrenness before, thereby brightening and making happy many thousands of homes by the advent of little ones to strengthen the marital bonds and add sunshine where gloom and despondency had reigned before.

Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice, in a plain, sealed envelope, absolutely free. Address him at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do not gripe. They effectively cleanse the system of accumulated impurities.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. Pierce, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address as above.

Raymond's face flushed with anger. "See here! What has that fat jackass been saying to you about me?"

Ann, calmly smiling, made her charges specific. "You're not the cook. You're called Robert Raymond. You're the foreman and a graduate of Harvard university, like all superior cowboys, and you have gallantly volunteered to cook in order that we might eat. Now, isn't this true?"

Raymond was stunned for a moment, but as she went on his head lifted, and into his eyes leaped a spark of red light. "Wait till I sight that scoundrel. You'll have a fine chance to study a cowboy in action. What else did he say?"

"He told us all about your fight with your rival. It was very thrilling. It's like being a character in a novel oneself. I'm quite excited by the thought."

Raymond's eyes ceased to glow, a faint smile quivered at the corners of his lips as he bowed gracefully. "Miss Rupert, permit me to astonish you still more. My name, though alliterative, is my own. I have never killed a man."

He looked toward the door—"that incredible ass will be my first. I am not a graduate of Harvard, and I did not leave my native town between two days. Does this disappoint you?"

"Most deeply. Are there no mitigating circumstances?"

"None whatever. I am hopelessly commonplace. I'm not even a cowboy. I'm foreman of a hay ranch."

"You destroy our dreams. But these books are yours?"

Raymond's eyes wavered. "Well, yes—some of them, but I don't care to pose as the student rancher. The boys respect me now because I can ride a horse and pitch hay. I make it a point not to air my other accomplishments."

He was interrupted by a series of faint yells, and as they all listened the swift trample of horses' hoofs could be heard. Louis sprang up, all excitement, his eyes glowing.

"What is that—Indians?"

Raymond smiled at Ann. "No, only a bunch of cowboys passing." He stepped to the door to study their approach. "It's a mob of Williams' men. I don't know what they're doing here. The rush and trample of hoofs swept nearer, and a group of five drab colored horsemen drew up at the hitching pole with loud outcries, each man setting his pony on end with a wrench at the reins.

"Hello, Bob!" shouted the leader.

"Howdy, boys—howdy?" he replied coldly. "It was plain he was not well pleased by their inopportune call."

"Got anything to eat?" asked one of them as he swaggered up.

"Sure thing. Tidy up and come in."

Raymond, turning to Ann, said gently: "Perhaps you and the boy had better step into the other room. This gang is coming in."

"They're not dangerous?"

"No, but some of them are not fit to eat in the presence of a lady."

"Louis will want to see your guests."

"Very well," replied Raymond and turned to meet his visitors, who appeared fresh from a hasty toilet.

"Come right in, boys. What's the best word from over the ridge?"

The man who entered first was a big, rawboned, wide mouthed, freckle faced fellow, who gaped in amazement as he caught sight of Ann. "Hello! What's all this?" he asked, hunching the man next him.

The insolent vulgarity of his tone brought a flush of anger to Raymond's face. "Shut up!" he commanded in a low voice. Then added in explanation, "Some of Barnett's folks visiting the ranch." At the moment he hated them all with a sudden realization of their essential cheapness and their filthy manners.

As they took seats each man glanced at Ann with furtive, devouring eyes, and she thrilled under the scrutiny as she would have done beneath the glare of a wolf. She had a sudden sense of danger. "I am getting close to the elemental man," she thought, and by contrast Raymond assumed new interest. Though his clothing was almost as rough as theirs, his face and voice betrayed good blood and refinement. She wondered whether Wayne Peabody could stand between such a mob of ruffians and a woman. This man Raymond dominated them easily.

FRANK DORAN, of Laporte, has withdrawn from the race for auditor of state. This leaves John C. Billheimer, of Washington, and E. E.
Stoner, of Greenfield, the only candidates for this office now in the field.

GENERAL JOHN M. SCHOFIELD, retired, former head of the U. S. Army, died at St. Augustine, Florida, Sunday. He was one of the best known soldiers in the country and was distinguished because of his splendid services as an army officer.

It is proper and right to advocate at all times loyalty to home institutions.
It is better to go a step farther and practice this sort of doctrine. If you are in the habit of buying goods away from home figure up how much this amounts to in a year and then multiply that by the number of your neighbors who follow your example and you can make an estimate of the amount of money that is taken out of your own community by such a practice.

DIED.

PAGE—Mrs. Ed. Page died at her home at Jeffersonville, Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. She had been GIVING OUT.

The Struggle Discourages Many a Citizen of Seymour.

Around all day with an aching back;
Can't rest at night;
Enough to make any one "give out."
Doan's Kidney Pills will give renewed life.

They will cure the backache;
Cure every kidney ill.

Here is Seymour proof that this is so:
James Pollard of Cincinnati avenue, says: "For many years off and on I suffered from lameness across the loins and sharp twinges of pain in my back every time I made a sudden movement.
I could lift nothing of any weight and there was lack of ambition to do anything. At times the pains felt as though some one was plunging a badawl into me. Any little cold or exposure brought on an attack and caused me acute suffering. I had heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them at C. W. Milhous' drug store. They proved just the remedy I needed and soon relieved me of the whole trouble. My kidneys have been regular and normal ever since and I can sleep all night without being disturbed."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts.

MECHANICAL TUTORS.

Novel Method of Teaching Correct
French Pronunciation.

The utilization of various mechanical devices in the teaching of French pronunciation by Abbe Rousselot and Dr.
Marcel Natier in Paris is described in an interesting article by Grace Ellison in the Strand Magazine (London). The unique series of instruments invented by Rousselot received a grand prize at the Paris exposition of 1900. They began, Miss Ellison tells us, with the "artificial palate," which, she says, has been found especially useful by English speaking people in learning French.

The palate is made in the same way as a plate for false teeth from a model of the mouth in gutta percha and is generally black. After covering it with kaolin powder the teacher places it in his mouth and produces the sound. The pupil does the same; then when the two palates are compared one can see exactly what movements the tongue has made and exactly where it came in contact with the roof of the mouth, the difference in movement showing the pupil's errors.

Another device which has been found very useful in correcting errors made in pronouncing French and even in detecting the nationality of foreigners who speak French so well that their accent is indistinguishable to the ear is Rousselot's machine for "writing speech," which is a modified phonograph. Others are a form of manometer or pressure measure to regulate the force with which the vowels are given;
an "inscribing drum" to detect nasal quality and a "larynx signal" in which there is a bell that sounds only when the diphthong ou is properly pronounced.

CREDITORS MEET.

Trustee Will Take Charge of Preston Rider's Property.

Several of the creditors of the F. H. Hadley Poultry Company, which failed some time ago, were here from Seymour Friday afternoon to confer with Preston Rider, who was practically the owner of the company. They were to schedule of his property and it was found that about enough money can be commanded to pay out, but it will leave Mr. Rider with but a small part of his original fortune. At the meeting of creditors it was decided that a trustee should be appointed to take charge of all the Rider property and sell it so a settlement of some kind can be made with the creditors.

It was first thought that the plant of the Columbus Canning Company here, owned by Mr. Rider, would not have to be sold but it is now stated on authority that this plant will have to be disposed of to raise the money needed for the settlement—Columbus Republican.

Two weeks ago it was hoped by Mr. Rider and his creditors that a trustee would not be necessary, but after a conference it is said that the conclusion was reached that the appointment of a trustee was the better plan.

CATARRH FIRST A COLD THEN CATARRH THEN CONSUMPTION

A cold in the head is a common ailment, but it rarely ever stops there. It often grows stubborn and protracted, the mucous membranes, or inner lining of the body, become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and soon produces that disgusting disease, Catarrh. Then follow the unpleasant symptoms of "hawking and spitting," ringing noises in the ears, headache, poor appetite, mucus dropping back into the throat, and a feeling of general debility. Every day the blood becomes more heavily loaded with these poisonous secretions, and if the trouble is allowed to run on, the lungs become diseased from the constant passage of poisoned blood through them, and then Catarrh terminates in the most dreaded and fatal of all diseases, Consumption. The only way to get rid of Catarrh permanently is to cleanse the blood, and S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this purpose. It soon clears the system of all impurities, purges the blood of all Catarrhal matter and poisons, and effectually checks the progress of this dangerous and far-reaching disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that Catarrh cannot remain; and as this pure, healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the body, the entire system is strengthened and invigorated, and the symptoms all pass away. Book with information about Catarrh and medical advice free.

A SIGNIFICANT VOTE

It Seems Probable Now That Conference Will Not Strike Impasse.

Algiers, March 5.—One of the delegates having a most vital interest in the conference on Moroccan reforms said today that a settlement of the controversy between France and Germany now seemed possible, but he declined to make known the lines the arrangement would take. However, the trend of recent events has indicated that if any settlement is reached it would most likely be because France would make concessions with reference to the bank question, and Germany in return would adopt a less uncompromising attitude concerning the police.

France Receives Wide Support.
Paris, March 5.—The voting at Algiers Saturday on the proposition of Sir Arthur Nicolson, chief of the British delegation, to proceed to the immediate discussion of the Moroccan police question, gives great satisfaction here, chiefly because France has ranged with her a large majority of the powers, while Germany is among the small minority. Public tension was such over the Franco-German controversy that the vote was welcomed both as a success and as showing that France was able to count upon the almost unbroken support of Europe. French officials have claimed for some time that if a vote were possible it would give France a sweeping majority. It appears that yesterday's division did not produce a recorded vote, yet the powers aligned themselves with sufficient precision to amount to a vote. All the French journals give the division in the form of a vote, the eight voting in the affirmative being France, Great Britain, Russia, Spain, Portugal, the United States, Italy and Morocco. The officials had even considered Austria as doubtful, and had Austria bolted in the affirmative the entire vote of Europe and America would have been ranged on the side of France. The semi-official Temps seems to accept the decision of the conference as a vote in favor of France's proposals.

Accepts Sentence for Life.
Bloomington, Ill., March 5.—Anticipating his trial set for March 19, Wm. Ledue, a farmer who on Oct. 28 shot and killed Mayor Charles Nickel, cashier of the Bank of Chenoa, and Hugh Jones, a depositor, entered a plea of guilty to both charges and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

Alleged Counterfeiters Taken.
East St. Louis, Ill., March 5.—Detectives Sunday arrested James A. Sapp, thirty-one years old, and his brother Jesse, eighteen years old, on the charge of counterfeiting. It is said that when the detectives entered the room James held a ladle of molten metal in his hand, ready to pour it into a plaster mold. The police state that James has confessed that he and his two brothers had been engaged in making counterfeit dollars. Floyd, a third brother, suspected of being a "look-out," was also taken into custody.

The general office building of the Seaboard Air Line railway at Portsmouth, Va., was destroyed by fire and many valuable records and official papers of the road destroyed.

CAUTION!
This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe coughs, Bronchitis, croup—and especially for constipation, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRaise FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just In Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words."

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steadily and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, I became regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day."

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of an organ, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

For 25 years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MUCH DISCUSSION

Will Be Given the Statehood Bill In the Senate This Week.

A VOTE ON IT FRIDAY

The Chief Interest In the Bill Centers In the Proposition For the Territorial Referendum.

In the House the Members Find Themselves to Be Practically Out of Work.

Washington, March 5.—The United States senate will devote most if not all the week to the consideration of the statehood bill with a view to reaching a vote on it next Friday in accordance with the agreement arrived at last week. It is expected that the subject will be pressed until time for the vote to be given, which is Friday, 4 p. m. Senator Patterson probably will close the debate for the opposition and Senator Beveridge for the bill. These will not be set speeches in the usual meaning of that word, but are sure to provoke so much discussion as to cause the controversy to take on the character of a general debate.

Practically all the interest in the bill centers in the Foraker amendment and every possible effort on both sides is being made for and against that provision. Even the friends of the union of Arizona and New Mexico admit that the vote will be close, but the opponents of that policy appear more confident of success. Both sides profess to have assurances from the house friends of the joint bill that with the Foraker amendment incorporated in the measure it will be allowed to die, and its opponents insisting that with the addition made the house will be so eager to accept it that they will not even allow the bill to go to conference.

The fact that the railroad rate question will not occupy the floor will not be permitted to interfere with the activity on account of it. The bill is still receiving more attention from individual senators than any other measure, not excepting statehood, and it will remain in the foreground until it is finally disposed, regardless of its place on the calendar. The special question under consideration now is that as to whether the proposed compromise amendments shall be accepted. The bill will be made the unfinished business as soon as the vote is taken on the statehood bill. Senator Lodge is still disposed to ask the senate to take the Philippine tariff bill from the custody of the committee on the Philippines, but he will not move in the matter until after the statehood vote.

For the first time during the present congress the national house of representative is short of work. There is nothing in sight for the present week but the Indian appropriation bill, and although not regarded as necessary, the consideration of this bill is to be allowed to consume Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Bills on the calendar are being considered today under suspension of rules, and Friday will be devoted to the passage of private pension bills. Adjournment will then be taken until the following Monday.

Hundreds of Fishermen Drowned.
Helsingfors, Finland, March 5.—It is feared that 800 fishermen with their families who are afloat on the ice in the Gulf of Finland are doomed to perish. A fortnight ago about 1,000 persons who had with them their horses, were fishing off the east land when the ice parted and was driven by a storm into the Baltic sea. Later the ice split, the wind changed to east and yesterday a block on which there were 200 persons came ashore at Frederikshamn. The fate of the others is unknown.

In the Cause of Missions.
Nashville, Tenn., March 5.—The great quadrennial convention of the Volunteer Students, which has been in session in Nashville for the past five days, closed with the benediction last night, pronounced by Dr. James Robson of Edinburgh, Scotland. It was announced that accredited delegates numbered 4,188, including missionary workers from twenty-six foreign fields. Seven hundred institutions were represented.

Simply Followed Program.
Seattle, Wash., March 5.—Local Chinese deny the story that there was a split in the imperial high commission and that three members were left behind. They state that three members went to Portland to study the schools of Oregon and later California. They were following the Pekin plan, and will join the main party in Washington.

Head of Negro Masons.
Leavenworth, Kan., March 5.—Capt. W. D. Matthews, national head of the negro Masons, died at his home here aged eighty years. Captain Matthews came to Kansas in 1854 and organized and controlled the "underground railway" in the early days. He served with an artillery battalion in the civil war.

LA GRIPPE—PNEUMONIA
So many people who have apparently recovered from an attack of La Grippe are stricken with Pneumonia. This is due to the fact that the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs are left weakened and unable to resist disease.
FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
not only cures La Grippe Coughs, and prevents Pneumonia, but strengthens the Lungs so they will not be susceptible to the development of serious lung troubles. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation that may contain some harmful drug when FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR costs you no more and is safe and sure. Contains no opiates.
I had a bad case of La Grippe about ten years ago which left my Lungs so weak that I have been troubled more or less every winter since until I used FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, which cured me completely and my Lungs no longer trouble me.—J. H. BROWNING, D.D.S., Orrick, Mo.
G. VACHER, 157 Osgood St., Chicago, says: "My wife had a very severe case of La Grippe, and it left her with a very bad cough. She tried a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR and it gave immediate relief."
The 50c bottles contain two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottles almost six times as much.
